WORLD ANTI-RABIES DAY - SEPTEMBER 28

118 animals are vaccinated as part of world rabies day

Rabies threatens our beloved pets, wildlife, and even human lives.

However, together, we can make a difference. It starts with education, awareness, and responsible pet ownership. Let us unite in our commitment to protect not only our beloved pets but also the countless stray animals who depend on our care and compassion. Rabies is a preventable and deadly disease that affects both animals and humans, and it is our shared responsibility to bring an end to its devastating impact.

As part of world anti-rabies day, 50 dogs inside Pondicherry University campus has been vaccinated with combined vaccines (anti-rabies+multi-antigen) to help them prevent rabies, and other deadly diseases like parvovirus, canine distemper etc.

We're overwhelmed with gratitude to the generous person who donated 50 vaccines for them. This act of kindness is a significant step towards ensuring the health and safety of our furry friends.

Thanks to the authority of Pondicherry University who got us the permission to conduct the camp.

Thanks to volunteers Mr. Aman, Ms. Manika, Ms. Pooja, Ms. Jhanvi, Ms. Shyama, Ms. Sreyasi, Ms. Ahana, Mr. Boopathi for helping us with the event.

We have always been enthusiastic about providing free anti-rabies vaccinations, related to world rabies day.

An anti-rabies vaccination camp has been conducted at Bark India hospital from 26/09/2023 to 30/09/2023, that vaccinated 33 animals (dogs and cats) against rabies.

35 community dogs have been vaccinated against rabies at Morattandi and Pattanur
